

SENATORIAL COMMITTEE DECLARES COAL PROFITEERING IS DISGRACE TO THE NATION

WOULD REDUCE SIZE OF NAVIES

Resolution Offered to Have the President Confer With Japan And England.

Would Have United States Offer To Cut Naval Program One-Half.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 14. —A resolution requesting the President to open negotiations with Great Britain and Japan for an agreement to reduce the naval building programs 50 percent for the next five years was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Gorah, of Idaho.

The resolution would declare it to be the opinion of Congress that the United States would make such a reduction if an agreement could be brought about and asserted the navies of Great Britain and Japan were the only ones of power sufficient to require American attention.

DANIELS SAYS SUCH ACTION WOULD BE CRIME

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 14. — When Senator Borah offered his resolution to limit naval building, Secretary Daniels was before the House Naval Committee strongly opposing such a proposal.

"It would be a blunder almost equal to a crime," said the naval secretary "for the United States to enter into an alliance with any two or three nations either to suspend or curtail naval building or for any other purpose. It would certainly make suspicion among other nations of the world."

"I profoundly believe the United States cannot afford to take a five-year naval holiday" as it has been rumored England and Japan will suggest to this country. I wish that we could have a world agreement that would settle disputes without recourse to arms, but until that comes and comes surely, we ought to carry on our naval building program."

Senator Borah's resolution was referred to the foreign relations committee without debate.

HOLD VESSELS DUE TO STORM

(By Associated Press)

Detroit, Mich., December 14. — Eight lake freighters were held in the Detroit harbor today because of reports of a gale with a wind velocity of 74 miles an hour and speeding eastward from Lake Michigan. The steamer Sullivan, grain laden from Fort William, Ontario, due here this morning has not been heard from.

Favor Drastic Laws to Regulate Coal Industry Generally.

Would Even Take Over Mines If Necessary to Reduce Prices

Recommend Statements From Jobbers and Retailers.

Careful Congressional Scrutiny Urged by Senator Edge

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 14. — Sharp criticism of the national coal industry, with implied threat of drastic legislation by Congress to meet alleged evils of profiteering and speculation, accompanied the partial report of the Senate Committee on Production and Reconstruction, submitted to the Senate today.

In general, the report, which asked power to allow the committee to continue its investigation, suggested government activities to bring about co-operation under regulation in building construction. But its three Republican members, Senators Calder, New York; Edge, New Jersey, and Kenyon, Iowa, supplemented their findings with additional statements, all of which agreed in asking special legislative attention to present methods of producing and distributing coal.

These, Chairman Calder said, "must be corrected," while Senator Kenyon declared that "if the matter is to go on, I, for one, harsh as the remedy may be, shall favor taking over the mines."

Senator Edge expressed his conclusion that "the coal industry can not bring order out of the prevailing chaos and give even reasonable relief to the suffering people. So I am ready to modify somewhat in this case my opposition to government intrusion into private business and to advocate legitimate scrutiny."

"Coal profiteering, especially as it has followed the priority orders of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, has continued unchecked by the Department of Justice and is a national disgrace," the committee said in its joint report.

"Coal speculation has been permitted to monopolize the transportation facilities of the country, retarding necessary construction and increasing the basic cost of manufacture and distribution of commodities in general. It has bled the home owners, public utilities and industries."

"Our investigation into the coal situation has convinced us that private interests now in control of the production and distribution of coal are actually unable to prevent a continuance of the present deplorable situation, and that it is the duty of the government to take such reasonable and practical steps as it may to remedy the evil."

Government administration of the production and distribution of coal, the committee said, "should be a last resort," but for the present it recommended that operators, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers in the industry be required to file full and frequent reports with a federal agency sufficient "to determine costs and profits."

STORAGE HOUSES TO AID FARMERS, URGED BY BARUCH

Bernard M. Baruch.

A comprehensive plan for placing the farmer on the same basis in the market as the man who buys his product is suggested by Bernard M. Baruch in a report to the Kansas state board of agriculture. He suggests warehouses at important points in agricultural sections in which farmers can store their products during periods of depression and receive receipts for them, on which they can get credit.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 14. — The British delegates to the International Communication conference have left for home. Their departure is expected to result in an indefinite recess by the delegates representing the United States, Japan, France and Italy.

ASK FOR END TO GROWTH OF ARMS

Agreement Among Powers To Put Speedy End to Big Armament Recommended

Moment Has Not Yet Come Declares British Delegate

(By Associated Press)

Geneva, Switzerland, December 14. — An agreement among the powers to put an immediate end to the growth of armaments is contemplated in the League plan for disarmament as presented by the disarmament committee at today's session of the League Assembly.

The Council of the League is asked to undertake the bringing about of such an agreement.

In explaining the report to the Assembly the committee said that while unanimously in favor of the speediest possible disarmament it had formed the conclusion the moment had not arrived when it would be possible to accomplish it.

"There are countries with the most powerful armament building facilities outside the League," said A. L. Fisher, of Great Britain and "disarmament can begin only when all are in."

WILLARD MEETS BILL BRENNAN

The fight, the outcome of which will be determined by points, is for a diamond studded belt to be awarded the winner by Tex Rickard, the promoter.

(By Associated Press)

Milwaukee, December 14. — The big steel steamer W. B. Crawford, of Cleveland, with a cargo of 11,000 tons of hard coal which yesterday went on the rocks in a fog north of the Milwaukee harbor entrance, was still fast this morning.

Most of her crew of 33 remained aboard. Little fear was felt for their safety.

INJUNCTION IS NOW SOUGHT BY WESTERN UNION

Asks That Secretaries of Navy, State and War be Enjoined

Thinks Colby Intends Tearing Up Cables

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 14. — The Western Union brought suit in the District of Columbia Supreme Court today for an injunction restraining the Secretaries of State, War and Navy from interfering with the proposed connection of the company's cable with the new cable line from Barbadoes where it connects with a British cable to South America.

The company complained to the Court Secretary Colby has threatened if any attempt is made to connect with the Barbadoes cable, the government will take steps which the petitioner interprets to mean that these cables, long in use, will be torn up by the government order.

BILLION IN TAXES REMAIN UNPAID

And All Because Audit Has Not Been Made Says Treasury Official

Complex Revenue Laws Held Responsible For Remarkable Situation

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 14. — The Treasury Department estimates that "more than a billion dollars" is outstanding in unpaid taxes because of the government's inability to audit the returns D. R. Adams, of the treasury staff, testified today at the hearing on taxation before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Because of the complex nature of revenue laws, he added, the internal revenue bureau has been unable to complete the checking up of tax returns for 1917. He saw no immediate hope of making the audit current with the tax returns filed.

FOOTBALL STAR OF NOTRE DAME DIES TUESDAY

Throat Disease Which Started Nov. 20th Proves Fatal

Won Place On All-American Eleven

(By Associated Press)

South Bend, Indiana, December 14. — George Gipp, Notre Dame football player, died at 3:23 o'clock this morning from streptococcal throat disease. Gipp, whose splendid playing won him country-wide recognition and made him a choice for a position on the all-American eleven, had been ill since the Notre Dame-Northwestern game, November 20.

Pneumonia helped weaken the athlete. Specialists called from Chicago succeeded in ridding his system of pneumonia, but he had not the stamina to ward off the poison resulting from the throat affection. His mother, brother and sister were at the bedside when he died.

Gipp first jumped into the spotlight when Notre Dame clashed with the Army in 1919, when his kicking, forward passing, field running and generalship won him the plaudits of the Eastern football critics.

One note of happiness was brought into the athlete's few remaining hours, when he was informed he had been selected as a player on a mythical all-American eleven.

During his illness, he also was informed he had been offered a contract by the Chicago National League baseball club. Gipp was 24 years old and his home was in Laurium, Michigan.

M. S. DAUGHERTY GIVEN BANQUET BY MEMBERS WAR COMMITTEE

Appreciation of Chairman's Work During War Time

Is Shown by Fellow Workers in Testimonial Banquet.

Scene One of Beauty Long To Be Remembered By Participants.

On the third anniversary of the formation of the Fayette County War Council, December 13th, 1917, the Directing Committee of the Council paid honor to the chairman who served so faithfully and tirelessly when they banqueted Mr. M. S. Daugherty at the Cherry Hotel with a dinner that reached perfection in its appointments Monday evening.

It was a complete surprise to Mr. Daugherty. On a business pretext he was asked to come to the Cherry at six o'clock to meet a business representative with Hon. J. D. Post.

Those who greeted the former chairman in the private dining room at the Cherry were the former eleven members of the Directing Committee of the War Council: Hon. J. D. Post, M. E. Hitchcock, Hon. C. A. Reid, C. N. Baer, H. G. Coffman, A. W. Duff, Hon. Frank C. Parrett, Walter Hamilton, Ed Fite, Roy T. McClure, Henry Brownell.

It was the desire of the hosts that nothing be overlooked in the way of enhancement to the evening's pleasures and it was of special note that little Miss Leota Knapp aged ten years toe dancer and marvel of Columbus, and the executor of dainty steps that have entertained thousands, had been secured to entertain this little group with the same fascinating grace that had attracted spectators at the Stadium football game. Mrs. Knapp accompanied her little daughter to this city.

For the young dancer a miniature stage had been improvised at one end of the dining room and brilliantly decorated with flags, gold plaques, ferns, and poinsettias, made perfect frame for the dancer as she added to the joyousness of the hour.

Hon. J. D. Post presided as toastmaster and with dignity and wit that lent sparkle to the occasion as he requested his former committee associates to respond to happily phrased toasts.

A "scientific elimination" contest, conducted through the medium of stage money, provided a half hour of amusement and demonstrated the skill of several members of the party.

The Dinner

The handsome hotel dining room presented one of the most brilliant scenes in its annals and the perfect ensemble of the dinner—its superb decorations, its deliciously prepared viands and splendid service—brought new laurels to the Cherry Hotel, which has had in charge many elaborate banquets. Throughout everything was perfectly managed and praise ran high both for the committee which had sponsored the affair and the hotel regime which had so skillfully carried out every detail.

The table was a picture—a yellow and white color scheme carried out in a wonderful center basket of yellow Chadwick and Pompom Chrysanthemums yellow narcissi and fern, flanked by magnificent candlesticks of Damascus brass and at the ends brass dragons, from which yellow candlesticks flashed flame. From the basket the same golden chrysanthemums sprayed over the damask to the covers, marked by exquisite appointment of shining silver. The color scheme was carried out even to the gold band china used.

The menu served was most elaborate, a distinctive feature the bringing in of two beautifully browned turkeys to be carved at the table.

Bread Sticks
Turkey
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Brussels Sprouts

Cigars

Absolutely nothing was left undone to make the dinner a success and high compliment to the honor guest—the committee in direction was composed of Messrs. M. E. Hitchcock, Ed Fite and C. N. Baer.

It was an occasion of unforgettable memory to both the highly appreciative guest of honor and the entertainers.

KINDLES FIRE BARN BURNED

Man Arrested When He Continues To Heap Fodder on Blaze While Firemen Are Working.

After the fire department had been called to the home of Thomas Cartwright on Third street about 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, where his barn was blazing, the police received a call and arrested the owner on a charge of drunkenness.

When the firemen reached the scene of the blaze the barn was almost half burned, but the flames were soon under control.

Cartwright, the owner, had been burning fodder near the structure and the flames had been fanned into the barn.

When the fire was out Cartwright again started to build a fire and began to throw stocks on the embers. When he was told to stop by the firemen he declared that "I've been burning stocks here for four hundred years and I don't intend to stop now."

The police were called and Cartwright was jailed on a charge of drunkenness.

MERCHANTS EXPECT HEAVY BUYING NEXT FEW SHOPPING DAYS

While hundreds of persons have been obeying the slogan "Shop Early" yet there are just as many who have not, and local merchants expect the latter part of this week and the five shopping days of next week to be one of unusual activity for Christmas shoppers.

Every afternoon for the last two weeks the shops have been filled with buyers of holiday goods and the merchants are retrenching their displays for the final rushes.

But so thoughtfully have the merchants prepared for the holiday buying that the great demand made upon the stores during the last ten days has not yet affected the outward appearance of the displays.

FARMERS WANT FARMER OFFICERS DECLARES TABER

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, December 13.—A reception primarily to welcome the new delegates marked the opening of the forty-eight annual convention of the Ohio State Grange here tonight. The convention will last four days.

The executive sessions will open tomorrow morning, with election of officers set for Thursday.

"One thing that will be made evident before this convention adjourns," T. J. Taber, state master, said tonight "is the fact that the farmers of the state are determined the new governor shall appoint real farmers to all state positions bearing on agricultural life."

"We don't want any political 'lame ducks' to fill such positions in the Governor's cabinet," he added.

"The farmers are opposed to all prices fixing, but stand solidly for their right to collective bargaining and marketing of their products, and the grange will back Capper-Harshman bill in Congress to this effect."

"Pork, corn and wheat have reached the very bottom price at which the farmer can sell," Mr. Taber declared.

The price is below production cost, he said.

The measure now goes to the House.

RANDOM NOTES
SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

The Mothers' Circle held the pre-Christmas meeting Monday afternoon with Mrs. M. E. Hitchcock and introduced a happy idea for promoting Christmas happiness at the Children's Home. The Club will collect used toys for the fifty-three children who fatherless and motherless, yet await the coming of Santa Claus with all eagerness, and have never yet been disappointed.

In so many homes there are perfectly good toys of which children have wearied and are now cast aside. These toys would add greatly to Santa Claus' pack for the Home and children in giving them find the stir of the Christmas spirit. Toys can be left at the homes of Mrs. Earl Barnett, Mrs. Mart G. Morris or Mrs. Pearce Ballard.

A program of marked interest was presented, Mrs. Troy Junk contributed a very interesting and instructive paper on "The Budget System in the Home," offering well worked out plans for economical household management.

Mrs. Hugh H. Hudson favored the Circle with a charming group of Children's songs and gave a very inspiring talk on "The Lax Era in Our Children's Future."

Mrs. Hudson called special attention to the necessity of discipline if children were to develop into worth while men and women, and to the need of the right kind of an example in the lives of the parents. She also urged that the same care be given to the start of children in the church life that attends their start in the school life.

The Circle welcomed a letter from one of its members, Mrs. H. L. Stitt, who is recovering from a recent operation in the Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati.

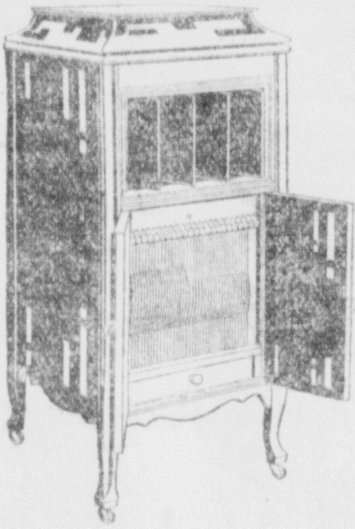

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Deere, Mr. and Mrs. George Cline left Monday morning for Cleveland to attend the State Grange meeting.

ANOTHER HOLD-UP IN THIS CITY

Another hold-up occurred Sunday night at the D. T. & I. Bridge south of West Court street, when a man from out-of-town, who had been calling on a friend in the southern part of the city and was walking up the track was accosted by a man with a gun, according to the man's story, and asked for his money.

The man previously had secreted his money before starting homeward, it is stated, and escaped with the loss of a penknife, which the hold-up man threw into the creek.

Reports of two boys being accosted near the Cherry Hotel recently, and asked how much money they had, also have been made. The boy, it seems broke away and ran.

HYPO-COD HELPED MY THROAT, ALSO STRENGTHENED ME

I Sleep Like a Child and Feel So Much Better. It is Wonderful.

"After my spell of the Influenza I never recovered and was bothered so much with my throat and was so hoarse all the time I could hardly talk.

"I could get very little sleep at night and was so weak and nervous that I could hardly get around. I could only half do my housework but since I took Earle's Hypo-Cod I'm feeling fine. I feel so very much stronger and better all over. I sleep just like a baby these days and wake in the morning so refreshed. My housework is a pleasure. My throat improved so quick and my appetite came back so nice. I surely have received fine results from this tonic and find it so pleasant to taste I have recommended it to neighbors all around here in the city," declared Mrs. Mary Parkinson, 251 S. Washington St. Columbus, O.

After a spell of sickness it is wise to take advantage of the more modern tonic and get back on your feet days and weeks sooner. It means less danger of complications and a quicker return to work or play.

Earle's Hypo-Cod, druggists, chemists and experts assert is a most powerful tonic. Just read the formula on a bottle at your druggist tonight. Take home a bottle with you and see how quickly it does the work.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns.—Advt.

MUSIC LOVERS ENJOY CONCERT BY JOHN HAND

New American Tenor Gives Unusual Pleasure To Large Audience.

Third Number of Lecture
Course One of Exceptional Enjoyment.

Few musical entertainments held in this city in recent years have proven as pleasurable as that of Monday night when John Hand, new American tenor, gave a concert that was a constant source of delight to a large audience of music lovers, and time after time Mr. Hand was recalled by outbursts of enthusiastic applause to which he graciously responded.

Mr. Hand has a voice of unusual volume, which quality is not lost in a voice of color and warmth to tone. His program was so arranged as to please the most critical and all of his numbers were interpreted with a wonderful depth of feeling.

He revealed to an audience that completely filled the church auditorium an unusually fine tenor voice, which was especially remarkable for its sweetness and power. His enunciation was particularly good, and the songs requiring especial effort were given with exceptional ease.

Mr. Hand opened his concert with the aria "Cielo e Mar" from the opera "La Gioconda" and an encore in the lighter vein. He then presented several groups, each a gem and every one faultlessly rendered responding to encores after each appearance on the platform.

His success was marked in the very imaginative music of Campbell-Tipton, two specimens of which, "The Crying of Water" and the "Hymn to the Night" he presented with perfect taste.

His Italian operettes gave him ample opportunity to display his range of voice and interpretative powers, which captivated his hundreds of auditors.

Never before has an entertainer in this city been accorded greater or more spontaneous applause. Critics declare that he compares most favorably with John McCormick in the rare quality of his extraordinary voice. To members of the committee after the concert Mr. Hand expressed his deep appreciation of the manner in which his singing was received, stating that it was a genuine pleasure to sing to such an appreciative audience.

LaVar Jensen proved a noteworthy pianist, both in accompanying Mr. Hand and in the presentation of difficult solos, responding with two encores.

The reception accorded Mr. Hand in his appearance here clearly indicated that the committee made no mistake in going outside of the regular Lyceum Bureau and booking the gifted tenor.

The next number of the course will be Thomas Brooks Fletcher dramatic orator, who appeared here a few years ago and pleased the large audience which heard him. It is believed that an even greater number will be present for his second appearance on January 6th.

Have You Thought of Kimonos?

A Kimono in silk or crepe decorated with Japanese embroidery will win a place in any woman's heart if for no other reason than its delicate beauty. These garments are practical too and so comfortable for wear during the early hours of the day at home.

Gifts for Baby

Dainty little Frocks, hand embroidered and hand-sewn; adorable little Coats; cunning Jackets; Bonnets and a host of charming accessories made of ribbon, are all waiting here to make the wee tots' first Christmas a glorious event.

Beautiful and Gift Worthy Is The New Neckwear

Charming tributes to women's love of dainty accessories are the enchanting Neckwear fancies which grace our Christmas displays. They provide graciously for the round, the square and the V-shaped neckline. Here are filet lace collars which will remind you of those our grandmothers wore fastened at their throats with old-fashioned cameo brooches. The modesty vestees and gimpes are developed of crisp organdies and airy nets.

Silk Underwear The Loveliest Gift of All

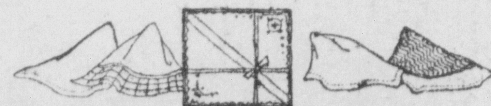

The soft silken touch of these daintiest of Underthings means much to personal and clothes satisfaction—almost as much as to know that they are trimmed with filmy laces and ribbons delicately embroidered. As a Christmas gift from one woman to another, Silk Underwear expresses a consideration and sympathetic understanding which few gifts could convey.

Handkerchiefs Come First

Have you seen the pretty handmade Handkerchiefs of colored linen? They have tiny little rolled hems, and threads of contrasting color have been run carefully through them. One of these with a Madeira and a lace Handkerchief all neatly put together in a jolly Christmas box would make a mighty fine gift for a very dear friend. But if instead of three you would rather give six or a dozen you will find more than enough plain and fancy Handkerchiefs to gratify your most extravagant desire.

The Specialists

This is an age of specialists in all lines. Professional men, business men and mechanics are fast drifting from the general work to specialists.

Speaking generally service can be improved by specialists. When men devote their time, their energies and their abilities to one line of activity only it follows, inevitably, that they will attain a much greater efficiency than they could attain if every branch of their profession, business or trade were given attention as occasion demanded.

That is, of course, provided always that the specialist begins his career as such determined to excel and with natural ability plus experience which fits him for success. Then the specialist honors the activity which he selects, assists in world progress and is a real benefactor to humanity.

To often, however, men of mediocre ability, no experience, no particular talent and, frequently, failures in their life's work, take up specialties not because they have particular talent, not because they are anxious to succeed but as a commercial proposition—as a money-making opportunity. Then, in that case, the profession, the business or the trade which attracts them as being the most promising, financially, suffers, humanity is the loser and civilization's advance is checked.

Sometimes one cannot help fearing that "specialists" are overdoing things and that the specialist who will be most in demand within a short time, will be the general all around man.

We are getting too many specialists and not enough general purpose men in all lines.

Coming Down Safely

Everything considered the business of the nation seems to be taking the down grade from the pinnacle of high prices reached during war times, in very good condition.

Thus far, although we are now well down the hill, there are no indications that the machine, in which we are all of us riding, will meet with any serious mishap and a bad smashup seems now to be out of the question.

There are no exceptions now; everyone in legitimate business has set the brakes and started down grade with market prices.

There is no frantic rush and none of the travelers on the road seems to be in danger of losing control of his particular vehicles. There are some rough places, to be sure, which some of the vehicles are having a little trouble to get over safely, some grinding of brakes, some "back firing" in particular cases and some undue apprehension among some of the drivers but everything now promises safety for all and that, before we are well aware that we are "going down" the level plain of normal conditions opens its promised vista of opportunity.

It is a time now for everyone to sit steady, be cautious, be mindful of his associates in the business world—give the other fellow his share of the road and don't crowd him over on to all the bumps.

POETRY FOR TODAY

UNDER THE WILLOWS

I love to enter pleasure by a postern, mob;
To find my theaters in roadside nocks,
Where men are actors and suspect it not;
Where nature, all unconscious works her will,
And every passion moves with easy gait, Unhampered by the buskins or the train
Hating the crowd, we gregarious men
Lead lonely lives. I love society
Nor seldom find the best with simple souls
Unswayed by culture from their native bent,
The ground we meet on being primal man
And nearer the deep bases of our lives
Oh, benediction of the higher mood
And human kindness of the lower, for both
I will be grateful while I live, nor question
Wisdom that has made us what we are,
With such large range as from the beach
Can reach the stars and be with both at home.

—James Russell Lowell.

OUR PROSPERITY IS LINKED UP WITH GERMAN REPARATIONS

Exponents Declare No Progress
Possible Toward Better
Business

Until Size of German Indemnity
Is Finally Fixed

New Administration Must Hasten
Settlement of Foreign Affairs

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Washington, December 14. — One thought has been pressed upon me so often and from sources of such weight that it seems to call for widespread knowledge.

I am told by business men, bankers and other men of practical affairs, as well as by men whose standing is on the theoretical side of economics and business, that there is one uncertain factor before the settlement of which no progress can be made towards better business conditions. That factor, they say, is the uncertainty of the amount of the German reparations. It is not a question of the size of the reparations, but a question of knowing what it is, of making the sum definite.

They say that there can be no economic stability in the world and no business prosperity until Germany knows the amount that she is to pay and the Allies know the amounts that they are to receive.

This factor, they say, is the primary cause of instability. There can be no stability in foreign exchange—in the relative value of dollars, pounds, francs, marks, lire, etc.—until this factor is fixed. So long as there is instability of foreign exchange there can be no stability of foreign trade, and until foreign trade can flow smoothly and upon assured lines, there can be no domestic industrial or business prosperity. This thing undoes all questions of taxation, tariffs and everything else fiscal in its nature. The amount that Germany must pay is of little importance compared with the making of this amount a fixed sum as against an indeterminate and unknown sum. So long as it remains indeterminate, it is a blind factor in precisely the place where should be one of the most solid foundation stones in the structure of international trade.

A Delay That Hurts Every One
If a malevolent intelligence should search the universe of economic evil to find precisely that thing which is most destructive to economic stability and to the human comfort and content which rest on business stability, these men say, it would probably invent the device of placing one of the nations of the world under the burden of indeterminate debt, in which the creditor has the power to increase the amount of the obligation in proportion as the debtor shows capacity to pay. The moral and economic evil of such a situation and its capacity for trouble-making on a world-wide scale are indescribable. The demoralization it works in the debtor is greater than the disorganization it brings to the creditors and to disinterested third parties as well. Due to causes too complex to enter into here—causes which at the time seemed insurmountable and made the consequences execrable—the amount of the German indemnity was not fixed by the Peace Conference. The Peace Conference merely asserted Germany's obligation to pay, but did not fix the amount she must pay.

The fixing of that amount was left to what was known as the Reparation Commission. Normally, the mandate of the Peace Conference to this commission was that it should fix the sum before May 1, 1921, but actually, in the language of the Treaty, this mandate is so hedged about with so many qualifications that the Reparation Commission can delay, and may delay, the fixing of the amount until much later.

What Will the Republicans Do?
A conference of the Allied Powers has been called at Brussels this week to discuss the German reparations. How much this may mean and how much progress may be made can only be known later.

The business leaders of the Allies are fully aware of the desirability, from a business standpoint, of an early determination of the sum that Germany must pay, but the other considerations cause some of the Allies, especially France, to be tolerant of postponing the fixing of the amount. So long as the amount of the reparations remain indeterminate, France retains certain privileges which she is reluctant to part with.

This point of course, assuming that the theory is correct has the strongest possible bearing upon the foreign policy which the Republican leaders are just now formulating. So long as we are absent from the conference of the Allies, we are in no position to use our influence toward hastening the date when the amount of the German reparations will be made known.

This date will mark the first progress toward equilibrium, and will be the first step toward the resumption of commercial stability. In proportion as restlessness under present conditions become acute, the new Republican administration will be under increasing pressure to make progress toward a concrete program for our international relations.

It would seem almost ridiculous to begin to speculate so early on just when the pendulum that recently swung so far in favor of the Republicans will begin to swing back; but when it does begin, the cause will probably be economic distress, and in ways perhaps complex and indirect, will nevertheless pretty surely be related to what is here set forth.

BRITISH ACQUIRE OIL CONCESSIONS

(By Associated Press)
Tegucigalpa, Honduras, (By Mail)—The government of Honduras has granted two concessions to British representatives by which they acquire rights to search for and exploit any oil fields found by them within the territory of Honduras. One of the British syndicates, The British Consolidated Oil Field, Limited has already sent its engineers to this country, and they are now searching for oil in various departments of this country.

JACK NORWORTH AT WILMINGTON

One of the really notable events of the current season will be the appearance of Jack Norworth the famous musical comedy star, heading his own company in New York Comedy Theater success, "My Lady Friends." This piece enjoyed a season's run in New York and is regarded as being the snappiest and most wholesome comedy seen in many years.

The song-hit of the play "I Want to Spread a Little Sunshine," is sung by Mr. Norworth in manner that justifies his reputation of being the best singer of popular songs on the American stage. This splendid attraction will be mington, December 16, just before they play the Lyric Theater at Cincinnati.

DEAR OLD PETE:

Winston-Salem, N. C. Friday p. m.

Just wound up the one swellest day of my life! Since early this morning, when I got an invitation to visit R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel cigarettes.

Man—the happiest idea you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply piker-stuff! Wipe off the slate and start fresh! Why—Pete, it seemed to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—honest to goodness, there are hundreds of these machines bating out Camels at the rate of 27,000 an hour—EACH!

Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open up a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant—you've had a trunk full!

As the Camels dropped into the containers I figured the delight each one would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smoker's jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor! And—

Pete—I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon.

Yours joyously
